

DECISION LAB

Six Names

A list appears. A story begins. What will you do before the facts arrive?

Ages 11–15

Choose. Weigh. Reflect.

Mission time: 60–75 minutes

Best completed in one sitting. Optional 5–10 minute pause after the second consequence.

PREPARE

From your Mission Kit

Print the Six Names mission materials before you begin.

Your Mission Kit includes:

- Six Names Case Board
- What's Changing? tracker and three counters
- four Concern cards
- three Judgement cards
- Final Judgement card

Cut out the cards and counters before you begin.

Have ready

- a pencil

On screen

- open Six Names in the WLA Academy

Set up

Set out your Case Board and tracker where you can keep both visible.

Put the four Concern cards beside the board. Keep the Judgement cards and Final Judgement card nearby until you need them.

Set the tracker to its starting state:

- Spread — Few
- Support — Some support
- Clarity — Guesswork

MISSION OPENING

A plain sheet of paper has appeared on the board outside the head teacher's office. It has six names on it, but no title, explanation or signature.

Your teammate Noor is one of the six names.

Someone nearby says the list is about pupils suspected of copying part of a team project.

Nobody saw the list being written. Nobody has asked what it means. The claim has started moving anyway. Some people believe the claim, some are unsure, and others are waiting to see what happens next.

The list is silent. The people around it are not.

YOUR MISSION

Your mission is to decide what to do before you know the full story, then decide what you still stand by when new evidence arrives.

MISSION RULES

- Use only what the case has revealed so far.
- Make each decision before you know what it leads to.
- There may not be a perfect choice — decide based on what matters most to you and what you know so far.
- Open Mission Control only if you get stuck.

MISSION STEPS

1. Open the list

In the Academy, open the list.

Study it closely. Everyone has noticed it.

Record the six names in Zone 1 — The List on your Case Board exactly as shown.

2. Separate what you know

The Academy reveals the case information one item at a time.

Sort each item as:

- Seen
- Said
- Unknown

When the Academy shows the classification, check your choice and correct it if needed.

3. Choose what matters most

Look at the four Concern cards:

- Stop an unfair claim
- Find out what the list means
- Protect the project
- Avoid making the rumour bigger

Choose the concern that matters most to you right now.

Write it in Zone 2 — First Move, then place the matching Concern card there.

You will return to the same four concerns later.

Mission Nudge — Each response protects something and risks something.

4. Make Decision 1

Return to the Academy.

Read the two possible responses, then choose one.

Do not try to guess which response the Academy prefers.

Before you confirm, look at your tracker and make a quick prediction: which part or parts do you think might change — Spread, Support or Clarity?

You do not need to record your prediction.

Confirm your response.

5. See what happened

Read the consequence of your choice. Notice whether the part or parts you predicted changed.

Move your counters to show what you think the situation is now.

Check the Academy confirmation and correct the tracker if needed.

In Zone 3 — What Happened, write one short line about what changed because of your choice.

6. Open the Changed List

The Academy will reveal a Changed List.

Record it in Zone 4 — The List Changes exactly as shown.

Do not treat the change itself as an explanation.

Mission Nudge — A visible change is not the same as an explanation.

Look again at Seen, Said and Unknown.

Ask yourself:

What has visibly changed?

What is still only said?

What remains unknown?

You do not need to repeat the full sorting activity.

7. Choose what matters now

Use your first consequence and current tracker state to think about how the case has changed.

Look again at the four Concern cards.

Choose the concern that matters most to you now. You may keep your first concern or choose a different one.

Write it in Zone 5 — Second Move, then place the matching Concern card there.

Mission Nudge — Start from what your first choice changed.

8. Make Decision 2

Return to the Academy.

Read all three possible responses, then choose one.

Before you confirm, look at your tracker and make another quick prediction about what might change.

You do not need to record it.

Confirm your response.

9. See what happened next

Read the consequence of your second response. Notice whether the part or parts you predicted changed.

Move your counters to show what you think the situation is now.

Check the Academy confirmation and correct the tracker if needed.

In Zone 5 — Second Move, write one short line about what changed because of your second decision.

Good stopping point

If you need a break, stop here for 5–10 minutes.

Leave your Case Board, tracker, Concern cards and counters as they are. The Academy will keep your digital place.

10. Open the Evidence

When you are ready, continue in the Academy and open the Evidence.

Read it carefully before updating your tracker.

Ask yourself:

What does this evidence explain?

What does it not undo?

Update Clarity to Purpose clear.

Keep Spread and Support as they are.

Mission Nudge — New facts change what is known. They do not erase what already happened.

11. Decide what you stand by

Look across your Case Board from the beginning.

Review:

- your first concern;
- your first consequence;
- the Changed List;
- your second concern;
- your second consequence;
- your final tracker state.

Choose the Judgement card that best matches your view:

- I stand by both decisions.
- I would reconsider Decision 1.
- I would reconsider Decision 2.

Place it in Zone 6 — What Do You Stand By?

This is not about whether you guessed the final explanation.

Think about what you knew at the time, what each choice tried to protect and what happened next.

Return to the Academy and select the Judgement card you chose.

Follow the short prompt, then return to your Case Board.

12. Make your Final Judgement

Complete the Final Judgement card.

Think about:

- what the evidence changed;
- what it could not undo;
- what you stand by now.

One or two brief sentences are enough.

You are not being asked to prove that another choice would have produced a better ending.

Place the completed Final Judgement card in Zone 6 — What Do You Stand By?

GROW

Which moment made the situation harder to judge, and what helped you decide what mattered next?

When something is explained before you have enough facts, what could you check before deciding what to do?

MISSION COMPLETE

You have finished when you have:

- recorded the list and completed the Seen / Said / Unknown activity;
- made Decision 1 and followed its consequence;
- recorded the Changed List;
- made Decision 2 from the changed situation and followed its consequence;
- completed the What's Changing? tracker;
- considered the Evidence;
- chosen a Judgement card;
- completed your Final Judgement.

MISSION TRAIL

Your completed Six Names Case Board and What's Changing? tracker are your Mission Trail.

Your Mission Trail is private unless you choose to share part of it.

MISSION CONTROL

Mission Control is available at certain stages if a step has you stuck and you have already tried any Mission Nudge provided.
